New Navy Register—Political Situation in Mississippi—Sugar Frauds at New Orleans—Fac Simile Signatures Not Allowed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 26, 1869.

NAVY GAZETTE.

Chief Engineer Isherwood, formerly Chief of the Engineering Bureau of the Navy Department, has been ordered to Mare Island navy yard.

The semi annual navy register has just been issued. A notable change appears in the list of staff officers, in which the ranks of officers have been reduced in conformity with the general order of the Department, based upon Attorney General Hoar's opinion of the 29th of March last. In the present register the highest rank held by any staff officer is that of Commander, while in the former several of the staff officers rank with with Captains according to the length of service. The new register contains a list of vessels with the changed names and a list of ten vessels sold since January.

NEW ORLEANS SUGAR FRAUDS.

Ex-Governor Hahn, of Louisiana, had an interview with Secretary Boutwell, during which he remarked that the sugar frauds at New Orleans were a great injury to the honest importers and planters of his State, and should therefore be severely punished; but that the people of New Orleans did not believe the investigations would be prosecuted and the criminals brought to justice, on account of the high position of some of the officials implicated. Secretary Boutwell replied that the parties will be tried, the evidence presented to the country, and no com promise accepted, even should more money be offered than is due the Government; that the suits, civil and criminal, will be pressed with vigor and determination and the guilty parties exposed; that Mr. Barfield, Solicitor of the Treasury, has been sent to New Orleans to aid in the legal proceedings; and that should there be no conviction it will be owing to the corruption of judge and jury, according to the present view of the case.

THE SITUATION IN MISSISSIPPI.

Rev. James Lynch, colored, of Mississippi, denies a recently published statement that he has pledged Judge Dent the support of the colored people of his State. Lynch has made arrangments for an interview with Gen. Grant and Judge Dent on Thursday next. He declares all further efforts at reconstruction should be based on universal suffrage and universal amnesty; that the white people of Mississippi have as thoroughly abandoned resistance to the doctrines of the Republican party as they did to the Government when the armies of Lee surrendered; that they do not feel any interest in common with the national Democratic party; that the Southern white man concedes to the colored man equal political rights, and there will be no issue between them, and to create one will be a curse to both races. Mr. Lynch has conferred with many of the leading radicals.

REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that the use by collectors of a fac simile die to impress their names upon stamps for distilled spirits cannot be allowed hereafter. The regulations require the actual signature of collectors on such stamps. This revokes the authority given by the late Commissioner Rollins, allowing the practice of fac similes of their names.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $900,000.

MEMPHIS.

Earthquake Shock—Capture of Horse Thieves—Murder of a Negro.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 26.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here this morning at two o'clock. During the night several large meteors fell.

The Appeal's Tuscumbia, (Ala.) special says: Messrs. Dickens and Humphrey arrived yesterday with the body of James Inman, they found him and his brothet in a cave and in attempting to arrest them were compelled to kill James. Henderson, his brother, was wounded and captured. He confessed to belonging to a band of horse thieves. They were concerned in the attempts to assassinate Dr. Deckers some months since and had fled from here.

The Jackson Whig, of Saturday, relates the murder of a negro, Henry Exhom, while returning from speaking, by two men named James Young and Wm. Langwires, who rode up to the wagon in which Exhom and a number of others were, knocked his hat off and on getting down after it he was shot by Young and killed. Through the negligence of the sheriff and coroner the murderers escaped.

Politics in Tennessee—Letter from Postmaster General Cresswell.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, July 26.—The State Journal of this afternoon publishes a dispatch dated 24th instant, from Postmaster General Cresswell, to W. B. Stokes, in which he says: "Believing you to be the true representative of the Republican party of Tennessee, I earnestly advocate your election, and trust that every sound Republican in your State will rally enthusiastically to your support. The President is absent from the city, but I am confident that I declare his opinion."

Mr. Mulley, the new registrar, has issued two thousand and seven hundred certificates to whites and three thousand to blacks. The majority of colored voters were registered by his predecessors.

New Orleans Revenue Frauds.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Collector Casey is having the immense amounts of seized sugar stored in the heretofore unoccupied vaults of the Custom House. Solicitor of the Treasury, Barfield, is here, giving his attention to the sugar cases. Supervisor Kinsali is also here. A warrant was issued to day for the arrest of August Cautauri for concealing his books. Those of the most importance to the Revenue officers cannot be found.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 26.—An American, just returned from traveling in Cuba, says the revolutionary forces display much more activity than the Spaniards, and are constantly making raids and otherwise harassing the enemy. There is, however, very little disorder outside of that usually connected with military operations, and private individuals travel from place to place without molestation. Supplies are obtained from the plantations, and as the country is very productive, both parties have an abundance of provisions. The principal wants of the revolutionists are arms, medicines, salt, clothing and shoes. There is no lack of men and the patriots have ammunition enough to last them many months. They also have arsenals established for the manufacture of cartridges and repairing arms that may become disabled in action.

The patriot leaders state that they do not need any men from abroad, and care particularly for arms with which to equip the large number of patriot volunteers constantly presenting themselves.

Great inducements are held out to blockade running. A fast steamer, such as was employed by the Confederates, would have no difficulty in landing a cargo, and in addition to her receipts from her regular cargo of arms, would make an immense profit on medicines, salt, cotton cloth, rubber goods and shoes, and would be given, free of charge, a cargo of sugar or tobacco with which to return.

HAVANA, July 26.—The volunteers from Remedios have surprised a force of rebels at Laguna and killed eighteen of them. A skirmish occurred between Sagua and Villa Clara, in which the rebels lost twenty men, including Major Marquese.

Advices from San Espiritu state that two hundred troops had captured a rebel entrenchment with considerable loss on both sides. A force of eight hundred rebels had attacked the colored militia guarding the railroad between Nuevitas and Puerto Principe, with a loss of forty men. Spanish loss ten.

HAVANA, July 26.—According to official reports the number of effective regular troops on this island is thirty-two thousand, and of volunteers four thousand. The rebels state that they have six thousand well armed men in the field, besides a number of guerrilla bands.

Marshal Serrano has issued an order withholding the Government stipend from Jesuit College in Havana, owing to the indiscretion of the Directors.

NEW YORK CITY.

Atlantic Cable Business—Medal Presentation—Tobacco Case.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 26, 1869.

The Anglo-American Telegraph Company announce their gross receipts from Atlantic cables since the landing of the first one, July 27th, 1866, at upwards of six hundred and forty-five thousand pounds sterling. The number of messages has steadily increased from a daily average of twenty-nine under the twenty pound tariff to two hundred and thirty during the last month, the first of the two pound tariff, while the daily average of dispatches in June, 1869, is more than double that of June, 1868, under a five pound five shilling tariff. And the daily average of receipts shows, by the same comparison, an increase of from four hundred and forty-seven pounds in June, 1868, to five hundred and twenty-one pounds in June, 1869.

The gold medal given by the Life Saving Benevolent Association was presented to Midshipman Mason, of the Guerriere, by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, together with a congratulatory letter from the Secretary. Mr. Mason, it will be remembered, saved the lives of two of the crew of the Guerriere in the harbor of Rio Janeiro in February last.

Gens. Sherman and Sheridan left for Long Branch this afternoon to attend the ball to-night in honor of the President.

The schooner Ella, from Tampico, lost one of her crew from yellow fever just as she anchored in quarantine.

U. S. Commissioner Shields, to day, in the case of L. Janja, charged with not making entries of tobacco received in Broad street, and who claimed the omission was caused by the negligence of his clerk, held the law was imperative and committed him to await the action of the grand jury.

The yacht Sappho has gone down the Bay and will sail for Europe on the first favorable wind.

A Singular Accident.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 26.—A letter from Princeton speaks of a fearful accident which occurred on the 20th. A man named Boots Crow was hauling upon his wagon two immense millstones, one of which weighed 2,850 pounds, and while passing along the side of a high hill the heaviest stone rolled from the wagon and sped down the declivity with fearful velocity, crushing small trees and shrubbery in its course. The house of a farmer named Darnell was situated at the foot of the hill. The mill stone went crushing through a fence and into the yard of the farmer's house, where there were a number of bee hives. In the yard were playing a bevy of children. The bee hives were upset, and the bees in their confusion lighted upon the children, stinging every one of them in a frightful manner. The progress of the great stone was not impeded in the least by its collision with the hives and went bounding into a stock pasture beyond the house. It dashed through a herd of calves and horses, killing two of the former and one of the latter almost instantly. The children in the yard had been completely covered with the bees, and each one was stung by them until their persons were covered with white swellings. One of them died a short time after the terrible occurrence, and two others are entirely speechless and blind. They can hardly recover.

Flour Mill Destroyed by Fire.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TROY, N. Y., July 26.—A fire broke out this afternoon in the store house attached to Shattumac Mills, in Waterford. The mill and contents were completely destroyed. Loss $80,000 to $100,000; fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. Three thousand bushels of wheat, five thousand bushels of feed, from twelve to fifteen thousand barrels of flour and three thousand empty barrels were burned. The mill was valued at $60,000.

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Lords to-night the Royal assent was given to the Irish Church bill.

In the course of the evening the Marquis of Clarcarde called attention to the inefficiency of the police and magistery arrangements in Ireland for the prevention and detection of crime. He said the constant recurrence of aggrarian outrages in that Island was a disgrace to the country, and the impunity with which murder and outrage were committed showed that the executives were powerless and assassins powerful. He urged the necessity of having a more efficient constabulary.

Lord Dafferin said Her Majesty's Government deplored the recent outrages in Ireland, and was ready to consider any proposal for their repression It was now considering the desirability of establishing a secret police force. He added, no measure had been neglected to bring the perpetrators of outrage to punishment.

The House of Lords has passed the Endowed Schools Bills.

In the House of Commons the announcement that Royal assent had been given to the Irish Church Bill was received with cheers.

The Telegraph Purchase Bill passed in committee. There was a decided majority in favor of making a permanent monopoly of the telegraph lines.

The interest in the Harvard and Oxford boat race exceeds that of the annual University contest. The betting is in favor of the Oxfords. SPAIN.

MADRID, July 25.—At last the Carlist out-burst, so long expected, has occurred. Five hundred well drilled troops, under the command of General Sabarigos, have taken the field near Cindad Real, where they were defeated and dispersed by the national troops commanded by General Tornabeti. The battle took place in the morning, and it is reported that the Carlist party lost fifteen in killed, and a number of others are wounded. Only three officers are reported killed on the side of the government troops. Near the town of Manzaries a strong party of the Carlists also made a demonstration, and subsequently succeeded in intercepting the railroad trains and cutting telegraph wires. The latest accounts state that four thousand Carlists had arrived in the province of La Mancha, and that government troops have been dispatched to the scene of action. The agitation is general throughout the whole country, and the people are much excited over the late news. No further hostilities have as yet been reported, although it is feared that a general rising may be expected all through Spain now that Don Carlos has crossed the frontier, and has opened communications with his numerous partizans.

MADRID, July 26.—An attempt made by the Carlists to take the city of Pampetuna, in Navarre, was frustrated by the garrison. Several were killed and wounded on both sides. Arrests of Carlists continue in Madrid.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, July 26.—This afternoon Deputy Sheriff Gregg, of Rensaeller county, with a posse numbering twenty men, went to the residence of a farmer named Dennison, in East Greenburg, to levy on his goods for the non-payment of rent. On reaching the place they found gathered about the premises about forty men. Not expecting any trouble, the Sheriff proceeded in the discharge of his duty, but was obstructed by the owner of the property. Wilbreck and Mr. Woods, seriously wounded. The Sheriff's posse then made a nasty retreat. It was reported five of the posse were wounded, but the above are the only names given.

Crops in the Northwest.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 26.—A gentleman who has been traveling through Illinois, south of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, says that the wheat has been gathered and is in excellent condition. The crop is immense, fully double what it was last year. The corn looks very promising, and there seems scarcely any doubt that the crop will be very large. Oats, potatoes, &c., are all that could be desired. From all parts of Wisconsin comes the information that the wheat crop promises to be very heavy. The harvest will be from ten days to two weeks later than usual. All the crops look equally well, except corn, which is a little backward. The same general reports come from Iowa.

A Revolution in Steam Engines.

The Jersey City Times has a description of a machine, now in operation in that city, which is destined to work a revolution in one department of mechanical industry—namely, a new steam engine, which, one-quarter of the weight, and occupying one-quarter the space required for an ordinary ten-horse engine, will give the same power, with 25 per cent. less fuel.

This little machine sets at defiance all pre conceived notions on the subject. Its motive power is all contained within the circumference of a broad, stout wheel, about three feet in diameter, revolving upon a hollow shaft which receives the steam and delivers it alternately into two reciprocal cylinders, and fixed between the center and the periphery. The power, therefore, instead of being at the center, presents the singular anomaly of being at the circumference. Or, in other words, the true center of power is at the periphery of the wheel. To use a familiar simile, the wheel is like the band or drum of a squirrel cage, in which two squirrels were consentaneously, one in the usual position, the other in the opposite, but with head down, and with a motion similar to that of a fly walking on the ceiling—both, of course, in continually reversing positions as the wheel turns. It is an application of the simple principle by which, as anyone can see, a grindstone may easily be turned by placing the hand upon the surface, while only with considerable muscular exertion a man's hand grasping the shaft can produce the same motion.

The inventor, Mr. Ruset, a Frenchman, resided at Communipaw until quite recently, where he was well known as the author and patentee of several useful minor inventions. The Times says it is expected that a stock company will be formed immediately for the manufacture of the Ruset engine, whose value for all uses requiring lightnees of construction, combined with economy of fuel, may be seen by the simple statement that it will give ten-horse power with no more fuel than would be required in a caloric engine of two-horse power, occupying one-fourth of the space, and at much lees than first cost. And one important feature is, that the same engine can be used either to attain a high rate of speed or to do heavy hoisting.

A Goose Race.

The Omaha Republican has the following account of a "goose race" that came off in that city:

"Over 2,000 people gathered on the banks above the pond, and along the lower end of Farnham street, on yesterday afternoon, to witness Bob Hart and Sully in their great wash-tub-goose feat. Promptly at the advertised time Hart made his appearance, followed by his competitor for the golden peanut offered by Col. Hanford. Each sat in an ordinary wash-tub, to which was attached six pairs of geese, driven and guided with an ordinary carriage whip. The most deafening applause shouts and yells greeted the contestants as they were towed into the pond. Striking the Farnham street bank both started side by side, talking to and urging on the feathered racers the same as a jockey would do in a trial of speed among horses. Half way across the pond Sully's team switched off and bolted for the weeds, giving Bob the lead by three and a half lengths. Recovering his course Sully made splendid headway, gaining rapidly on the Hart outfit. One of his geese, however, attempting to dive, kicked a rear goose in the eye. The kicked bird at once cackled his defiance and soon demoralized the entire team, to such an extent that victory was impossible. Hart would have come in "O. K.," only for his "wheel geese" bau'king badly and upsetting the tub. Sully began laughing at his opponent's disaster, when his team made a sudden right flank movement, which left the driver floundering in the mud. The assembled multitude yelled the louder at the accidents. Righting their crafts both parties made for shore leading their teams. Bob took the prize."

A WRITER contributes the following to a recent number of Once a Week: I went into a shop the other day to buy what the drapers call "gents' hose." A smiling young lady was behind the counter, and when I had made an appeal to her to show me some socks, I was somewhat doubtful what course of action I ought to pursue in order to demonstrate to her the length of my foot. As I am not a burlesque writer, it was clear that I could not lay my boot on the counter and say "with all my sole;" nor could I paraphrase Dibdin's Jack Tar, when he spoke of the dancer who "so daintily handled her feet." The little woman, however, speedily removed my first perplexity, though only to plunge me into another. "Will you," said she, "please to double up your fist and lay it on the counter?" I replied that I did not want gloves, but socks. "And I want to take your measure," she said. "But," I urged, "it is the measure of my foot that you require." "Yes," she replied, "and I can get it equally as well from your hand. Once round your clenched fist, at the knuckles, is the length of your foot." And she took the measure of my fist, and I took the socks on the faith of the damsel's representation; and, in due course, I found that she was quite right and had fitted me to a nicety.

AFTER Stonewall Jackson's death, at Chancellorsville, a story became current among the Confederate legions—which the soldiers loved to repeat over the fires of their bivouac—that, on account of his extreme piety, when their famous chieftain fell, a detachment of angels left the heavenly gates to visit the battle-field, and escort the hero's soul to heaven. The celestial squadron searched the close-strewn plain, but without effect. He whom they sought could not be found, and they returned mournfully to heaven to report their want of success. But lo! behold! on arriving they found the spirit of the immortal warrior there already. Stonewall Jackson had made a flank march, and got to heaven before them.

THE OLD STORE.

"The sails are set and the breeze is up,
And the prow is turned for a Northern sea;
Kiss my cheek and vow me a vow
That you will ever be true to me!"

"I kiss your cheek, and I kiss your lips;
Never a change this heart shall know.
Whatever betide—come life, come death—
Darling, darling, I love you so!"

Oh, but the Northern nights are keen!
The sailor clings to the frozen shrouds;
A kiss burns hot through his dreams of home.
And his heart goes South through the flying clouds.

The maiden laughs at the garden gate,
Dreams of love are the soonest o'er!
Kisses fall on her lips and hair
And the world goes on as it went before.

LEWISBURG is infested with burglars.

ERIE county talks of raising a regiment of State militia.

A NEW Republican paper is about to be started in Tunkhannock.

THE crop reports from Clarion and Snyder counties are still very encouraging.

CARLISLE claims that Prof. Vashon was born and partially educated within her limits.

JOHNSTOWN has a young Mozart, a lad not yet seven years old, who plays many tunes by ear upon the violin.

ST. PAULS' church in Erie was struck by lightning the other night, but the rods protected the building from damage.

THE State Society of the Cincinnati has upwards of $75,000 invested, and intends when this sum has become still larger, by the added interest, to build a monument to Washington.

THE Gettysburg Katalysine water turns out to be excellent bathing water, and bath houses, where only this water will be used, are about to be built in connection with the great hotel at that place.

MR. PETER JOHNSON, of Beaver township, Crawford county, attempted suicide two weeks since. He succeeded in cutting two deep gashes on each side of his neck with a pocket knife. It is thought he will recover.

EVERYBODY remembers the piano war which raged so long between the agents of the Steinways and Chickerings, throughout the country. In Franklin one man is agent for both firms, and it would be curious to know how he conducted the war.

ST. PAULS Episcopal Church in Erie, seems to be in a flourishing condition every other way, if not financially. At a recent pic nic of that church upwards of six hundred Sunday School children were present, with their teachers and friends.

ON Thursday last, the house of Mr. John Brook, in Jenner township, Somerset county, was struck by lightning, and a young girl named Fleshour was instantly killed. The deceased, a girl about fourteen years of age, was sitting with the family on the porch, when she was killed.

ON Sunday, a fire in Hyde Park, supposed to be the work of an incendiary, destroyed the building at Jackson and Main streets, and Solomon Clark, a teamster, twenty-eight years of age, perished in the flames. He was probably suffocated, being found in the position in which he lay asleep.

ON the 13th of July, a little girl named Catherine Loudon, living in Waynesburg, was burned to death. She lighted a fire and poured oil on it to make it burn easier, after which she placed the oil can on the top of the stove. The natural result was an explosion, which set the little girls clothes on fire.

THE Bradford Reporter says: A little son of Nathan Derry, of Orwell, aged five years, while attempting to climb over a fence a few days since, touched his feet on a log which rolled, throwing the boy to the ground in such a position that the log passed over him, completely crushing his head. The boy lived but a short time.

ON Monday afternoon the 12th instant, Mrs. John Drury, wife of John Drury, a miner in the employ of the Mineral V. J. & S. works, Riegelsville, attempted to kindle a fire in the stove by the aid of kerosene oil, when the oil in the can ignited causing an instant explosion, and scattering the contents of a large can of oil over Mrs. Drury. She was instantly wrapped in a sheet of flame. The neighbors gathered together and the flames were extinguished only after the clothes were almost burned from her body. After lingering for some six hours death put an end to her suffering.—Easton Free Press.

WEEK before last, Mr. I. D. Bell, a resident of Salem township, in this county, while working in his saw mill, was instantly killed. He, together with a man who was working with him, had rolled a log upon the carriage, and to support it in the centre, had placed a stick across the carriage, upon which the log rested. The saw was in motion, and as it approached the stick placed across to steady the log, Mr. Bell was standing in a stooped position. As he thus stooped down to pick something up, the saw struck the stick, breaking it in two, and causing one end to fly up, which struck Mr. Bell with such force as to kill him instantly.—Greenville Argus.

THE recent storms did much damage in the vicinity of Waynesburg; the Messenger says: The destruction to crops, fences, &c., had been fearful all along the creek valley, and along many of the larger runs it was almost equally so. Thousands upon thousands of dozens of wheat and rye, that had been cut and shocked off upon the bottom lands, were carried off and passed down Ten Mile creek to lodge on trees and fences and fields miles below where it started. Some farmers lost as high as three and four hundred dozens of grain, and others all that they had. Corn fields along the creek and big runs were leveled to the ground and covered with mud, brush and logs The same can be said of oats and grass fields. Many fences were taken away, and the destruction to bridges and mill dams has been very great.

A BOY of fifteen, in Blackhawk county, Iowa, whose father died three years ago, leaving his widow and son an eighty-acre farm burdened with a $1,000 mortgage, has taken whole and sole charge of the farm, hiring help only in seed time, harvest and threshing, paid off the mortgage, purchased a harvester, a sulky plough, a wagon and a set of harness, besides an $80 sewing-machine for his mother, and is now out of debt. He is a member of the Cedar Valley Agricultural Society, and attends school three months each winter.

MR. JOSEPH JORDAN, of Tupper's creek in this county, has a colt near two months old, that has eight feet. The front limbs at the pastern joint fork, making two separate pasterns on each leg, each having hoofs precisely alike. The hind legs at the pasterns on the inside fork, the inner fork having a small hoof, not so large as the two on which it walks. The four front hoofs are precisely alike, but the hind ones, as stated, vary a little.—But altogether the colt has eight feet, and is as healthy and fine looking a colt, Mr. Jordan says, as there is in the county.—Kanawha Journal.

AN exchange says: An intelligent traveler, named Jonas Wells, from Ritchie county, West Virginia, called at our office yesterday, and stated that he had just been delivered from a certain death—that a spider which entered his head and was preying upon the brain had been extricated a few minutes before. The circumstances are these: On Tuesday night last, Mr. Wells found himself in the country, and wishing to "turn in" for the night, laid down upon some straw and was soon wrapped in the arms of Morpheous. During his slumber, it is supposed, the spider was out late at night and coming in mistook the stranger's ear for his web and accordingly crept in, unconscious to the sleeping, weary man. On awakening in the morning, Mr. W. experienced pain in his head, but did not concern himself much about it, thinking it would soon pass away. He suffered the most excruciating pain, the effects of which almost made him blind, and he concluded to wend his way to town and seek medical aid to relieve his misery. He sought a drug store, and entering requested the clerk to drop from a feather a small quantity of turpentine into his ear. No sooner had the fluid reached the spot than a clever sized spider hopped out and was captured by the druggist. He says he could distinctly hear and feel something working and gnawing as if at his brain, from which he suffered the most intense pain. No doubt had the insect remained in his head longer, it would have reached the brain and death would certainly have been the result. He is now entirely relieved.

ARE WE WOMANIZING?

It has been said, and apparently not without reason, that the peculiarly dry air of this content has served to produce some remarkable physical peculiarities in our people. That of England are as generally plump, sanguine and ruddy, has long been an admitted fact; and on what he has been pleased to consider our gradual desiccation, as indicated by this circumstance, an ingenious Frenchman has not hesitated to state his conviction that we were approaching the monkey type. The fingers, says this pleasant Gaul, of America are lengthening, and assuming such terminal sharpness as to indicate simial tendencies. So well appreciated, indeed, he continues, are these tendencies, that gloves made in Paris for the American trade are constructed upon a system of rules, as to the length of the fingers, that does not prevail in the case of goods made for consumption by any other kid-wearing people. Further than this, he proceeds to consider the coming ape as portended in the jaw of the period; but as at this rate we would infallibly be gifted with tails, with which, by-the-by, we believe our savant does, in futuro, endow us, let us come to a theory of our own.

It is this. Are we womanizing in mind? Are we losing in strength and gaining in sweetness? Forgetting how to reason, and learning how to feel? Let us see. The distinguishing characteristic of the musculine intellect is continuity; the prominent feature of the woman's mind, intensity. These traits appear strongly in the handwritting of the sexes. The man seldom lifts his pen from the paper save where the necessities of the occasion impel him; with the woman it is the exception rather than the rule that her strokes connect and letters join. Such a thing as a dash from the end of one word to the beginning of another, without removing the pen from the paper, is perhaps, almost unknown in feminine chirography. The reason is evident. On that one particular thing which the woman has in hand at a given moment of time, whether the formation of a written letter in a word, or an expression of admiration of a new dress, she throws herself toto corpore. It is not a part of her that is there, but the whole of her. She is intense. To the contrary, it is very difficult to touch any one given stop in that instrument called Man, and thereby make the whole organism thrill. He will wait, the man will; he is not so sure about that; he must think it over. This thought that has come blazing in upon him has not taken him by storm, by any means. The entire man is not there to be taken; a great part of the army is always in the rear, and not till this has came up and formed its junction is it decided whether to retreat, surrender, or repulse—evade, assent, or deny. This does not take so long to do as it does to write about; but still it conveys the idea of interval, while the operation of the woman mind is, instantaniety.

And now are we womanizing? Are we gaining speed, like those leggy English races, at the cost of wind and bottom? There is some reason to think that we are. The texture of our logic is not what it should be, certainly not what it is in England, and most assuredly below that of France. This relaxation of the mental fibre is especially evident in the daily press, though here the fact of thought being, to use a hunting phrase, "in a drive," must be taken into account, since, otherwise, much that is due to haste or carelessness might be ascribed to more serious causes. But in periodical literature and in our books there are not these excuses, and yet here, too, we find an increase of intensity at the cost of continuity. It seems, in short, though in a sense not before dreamed of, an age of "modern instances." Particular cases are generalized into rules with a celerity that speaks much for our brilliancy, but very little indeed for our soundness. To illustrate, we met the other day in a paper the broad head-line "Life in the West." The article immediately following was a telegram from some far Western State, giving an account of a distressing quarrel, in which two men had fought, and one killed the other with a bowie-knife. It was not stated but that in any Eastern city there might have been an affair similar in its incidents, nor was the allegation made that the homicide was other than an exceptional occurrence in the locality indicated in the telegram, as indeed the existence of the telegram itself proved, since an every-day matter would not have been deemed important enough to telegraph. And yet, though this was an exceptional case, and might have occurred anywhere, the title to the intelligence was "Life in the West," leaving the inference, of course, that cutting people open with bowie-knives is quite the ordinary thing in Western society. And that this was the idea in the mind of the journalist when preparing a title for his telegram the reader can readily perceive. Murder was evidently the editorial reasoning, murder in the West; hang it, they are always killing folks out there, and down went the heading "Life in the West." Now this kind of reasoning is not masculine, but feminine. A thoroughly masculine mind would say, Man killed—sad affair; and down it would go as "A Man killed at ——." The difference is noticeable. The masculine mind perceives that it is one man killed at one point, and records it as just what it is, an instance. The womanized mind instantly generalizes the special point into the whole West, and the particular slayer into the general tendency of the entire population. This is precisely the feminine mode of ratiocination. At the mention of a man slashed to death, the blood and gashes intensify themselves before the woman. Where was he killed? Out West. "Ugh!" she cries, "I wouldn't live out West for the world."

With this the reader is in possession of what we mean by the womanizing tendency of American mind, and may form his own estimate as to how far that tendency prevails. For our own part, we are inclined to believe that it exists to a much greater extent than is altogether consistent with a state of general intelectual health. That it makes men more sympathetic is no doubt true, but quite as true, we fancy, that it renders them less just. Woman is more sympathetic than man, and yet a chief justice, bench, bar and jury, in petticoats, would be apt to make wild work with any ordinary docket, tutor them as you might in the learning of the law. That rigid continuity of thought which has reflection for its synonyme is not for woman, and yet if man recedes from it while woman does not approach, it is easy to see that the corelation of mental forces becomes impaired.

The practical effect of this derangement is often grievous, for there are not lacking those who, while free from it themselves, do not scruple to use it in others for their own purposes. A remarkable instance of such use we remember in a late debate in Congress, where one of the most sinewy and thoroughly masculine minds in the House, adduced, as the ground of a proposed act of legislation that would have greatly affected at least four million persons, a very remarkable, and, so far as our reading and observation go, altogether unparalleled circumstance of a purely personal nature. To suppose that the fallacy of his generalization was not known to the members in question would be to insult an exceedingly acute intelligence, and that, knowing it to be a fallacy, he put it forth as good reason in a singular evidence of his belief in, and disposition to take advantage of, a prevalent deterioration of the American logical tone. To generalize instances, then; to make the exception, not the proof of the rule, but the rule, is the peculiarity, we repeat, of the feminine intellect, and the question is, whether the masculine mind is not exhibiting a tendency to the same mode of ratiocination, or, in other words—Are we womanizing? S. D.

What Pedestrians Inhale

The mud of the hard paved streets of the city of London, according to Dr. Letheby, the well-known sanitary inspector, consists of thirty-seven per cent. of horse refuse, thirty per cent. of abraded stone, and thirteen per cent. of abraded iron—from horses, hoofs and wheel tires. A chemist in Dublin has obtained the same results from an examination of the mud in the streets of that city. In Manchester, a microscopical examination has been made of the solid particles floating in the air. These particles have been collected from various localities, and at different heigths from the ground, and subjected to close scrutiny. The atoms differed in magnitude, appearance and quality, per cubic inch of atmosphere, according to the place from which they were taken. The largest are found at about five feet from the ground, just the heighth of pedestrians' mouths; and the matter, chiefly vegetable, is that which has passed through the stomach of animals, or which has suffered partial decomposition in some way or other. Animalculæ in good proportion were also found to be present.

THE Abbe Correa used to say he liked bad children the best, because they had to be sent away. Mr. S. was an eccentric old gentleman who formerly lived in Philadelphia. The infirmities attendant on old age made it a matter of difficulty for him to turn rapidly, so as to look at objects behind him. Besides, he considered children a nuisance. "Oh, Mr. S." said a lady, who came running after him in the street one day, "do look at my baby! Is it not a dear little thing?" Mr. S. turned slowly and painfully round, scowled at the baby awhile—it was very young, very small, and looked as much like a dish of sweetbreads as any thing else—then informed the happy mother, as he went on his way, with a parting grunt, "Humph, madam! I suppose that it is not any nastier than other babies!"

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, July 26, 1869.

There is no improvement to note in business generally, nor is it expected that there will be for a month to come, Country orders are very scarce, as country people are too much absorbed in securing their crops to give much attention to city purchases, and the demand, therefore, for almost everything is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants. With good crops, however, there is every indication of a good fall business.

APPLES—In good demand and we can report regular sales at $3@4 per bbl for fair to good, and $4,50@5 for choice.

BUTTER—Is dull but unchanged; 20 @25 for fair to strictly prime.

BEANS—Sales at $1,75@2.

BROOMS—Quoted as follows: No. 5 $6,50; No. 4 $6; No. 3 $5, No. 2, plain, $4,50, and market firm.

CHEESE—Sales Western Reserve, at 15; Hamburg, at 16; Factory, at 17; and Goshen, at 18.

CARBON OIL—Is dull but unchanged; sales of 50 or 100 barrel lots, at 27@28, and in small lots, 29@30.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches have still further declined, and holders are anxious to realize and close out. We now quote at 7@8 for quarters, and 12@13 for prime halves. Apples 10@12c, as to quality.

EGGS—Sales at 20@21.

FLOUR—The flour business, to use a common phrase, is almost played out here. Many of the dealers are about sold out, and as they cannot replace at present prices, the arrivals are very light; it seems that the time has arrived, when our mills can successfully compete with Western Flours, as Winter What is about as cheap here as Spring Wheat is in Chicago, and as a consequence Winter Wheat Flour is relatively cheaper than Spring. The mills are reported as running to their full capacity, and their orders are mainly for supplying the city trade. Choice Spring Wheat flour is held at $7,00 while Winter Wheat is quoted at $7,00@7,25. Medium grade Spring, such as bakers usually buy, is quoted at $6,50@6,75.

GRAIN—Wheat is unchanged with a steady demand and but little offering; prime to choice (old) red, may be quoted at $1,35@1,40. Oats firm but quiet with a supply fully up the demand; sale 1300 bush. at 69½—small sales at 72@73. Corn is very scarce and very firm; may be quoted at 90@95, on track and $1,00 in store. Rye is in steady demand at $1,25, and a round lot might command $1.28@$1,30.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, July 26, 1869.

The oil market was considerably stronger to-day, and compared with Saturday, prices, especially for Crude, are a shade higher, and even at the advance there appeared to be more buyers than sellers. This time last year, Refined was higher than it is now, while Crude ruled lower. The former sold at 34½ for a line running from September to December, while spot Crude was only held at 14. Now the same delivery of Refined will not bring more than 33¼ while spot Crude is selling at 15.

It was rumored to-day that the Titusville Herald will make no report in regard to the production for July, and the reason assigned is that the reporter of that paper has been so grossly deceived by interested parties, that it is found impossible to give anything like an accurate report. The rumor is said to have come from the editor of the Herald, though we give it as we got it, not pretending to vouch for its correctness.

CRUDE.

As already intimated Crude was stronger to-day, and about a quarter higher and even at the advance, the offerings were by no means large. Sales of three lots of 1,000 each for July at 15; and 1,000 same delivery at $5,90, on cars at Venango City. Seller all year, may be quoted at 14¾ and buyer all year, 16½.

REFINED

Sale 500 first and last half of each month, August to December at 33; 1,000 August, last half, buyer, at 33; and 1,000 July at 32. Later in the day, lines for the late months were quoted at 33¼ @33½.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 87½@87⅝.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 137⅞@137½.

THE Democratic candidate for Governor said at Philadelphia that speech-making was not his vocation. But there is a matchless eloquence in the open mouths of his money-bags!

THE last report upon the lay-delegation question in the Methodist Church, gives an aggregate vote of 107,605, of which 78,536 are affirmative and 29,071 negative, a majority of nearly 50,000 for lay-participation.

A CONVENTION of the principal friends of Hon. S. P. CHASE, as a candidate for the next Presidency, will meet at Parkersburg, Wt. Va., ond the 2d of August. At that time and place, the Chief Justice will hold a term of the Circuit Court.

THAT Packer Corruption Fund has a powerful fascination for all the opposition editors. They can't think, talk or write about anything else but money. With money-bags for their candidate, they may be expected to harp upon that single string as long as the cash holds out.

GEN. G. W. CASS learns from one Democratic paper that he was laid aside "on politic grounds merely," but that his party "look forward anxiously to the day when they can bestow those honors upon him which he well deserves." Yes! and they will never cease to look forward. Another of the party prints commends him as "a Democrat in whom there is no guile." For "guile," read "cash," and we shall see the "politic ground" upon which he was shelved.

A CONVENTION of American Philologists meets to-day at Poughkeepsie, New York. Among other subjects to be considered, not the least important will relate to the position which the study of other languages, dead and living, should occupy in our educational system. The meeting will be attended by many of the most prominent linguists and scholars of the country, and valuable contributions are likely to be made to the store of public information upon all matters pertinent to popular instruction.

SPAIN has so long and nobly maintained her peaceful revolution that it redoubles our regret to learn of the present Carlist outbreak. It is still comfortable to reflect that these disorders are chargeable, not to the Republicans, but to the reactionary adherents of a pretender who always represented the extreme doctrines of an absolute despotism. Since it is to be no more a mere rivalry between two branches of one family, this Carlist insurrection will be summarily crushed, in the name of the Spanish people.

AMERICAN credit appreciates so rapidly and surely abroad, that our Treasury officials no longer doubt their ability to replace our six per cents. with another bond at as low a rate as four and a half. This would save us over thirty millions in annual interest. It was doubtless in view of these facts that the Democracy at Harrisburg concluded it was not worth their while to say anything more about bond taxation and greenback redemption. That issue is very dead, for which we mingle our tears with those of the Pittsburgh Post; we are both sadly grieved.

AMONG the first advices for the press, by the new French Cable, we have a report that a third line is projected direct from the English to the American coast. The project will be an accomplished fact within two years. The revenues to the first Cable have been enormous, constantly increasing in the face of reductions in the tariff to a figure now but one twentieth of the original rates. The charges are still five times too large. A brief message should be transmitted for not more than five dollars, and at that rate the three lines would all be occupied and with handsome profit to the owners.

IT IS NOW understood that Mr. W. A GALBRAITH was appointed Chairman of the Democratic Committee as a mere matter of form, it being arranged that he should decline and let Randall in with his Philadelphia crowd. The Committee play this little game, hoping to humbug the public as to their foregone plans for the distribution of the Packer corruption-fund. In the meantime, the friends of Gen. CASS must feel highly flattered by the temporary selection of the Erie gentleman, whom the Pittsburgh Post expressively eulogizes, in its certificate that Gen. CASS "had no more active opponent before the Convention than Mr. Galbraith."

THE Philadelphia Age remembers that "HENRY W. WILLIAMS, the Radical candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, was the leader of the Allegheny county repudiators, the open advocate of that Radical scheme." The Age should not trust to a memory so treacherous. Its specific accusation has been heretofore made, by a bitter opposition, against another gentleman, a citizen of this county, of the same name, and lately, but not now, in public life; but never before against the Judge. The Age confounding the two gentlemen, errs from much ignorance and still more recklessness. The Pittsburgh Post, which repeats the slander, although it may be presumed to know the truth, has yielded simply to another proclivity, which it is wholly needless to specify. Will either of the two journals correct its mis-statement?

IT IS quite probable that the new Governor of Virginia, WALKER, will be found supporting the policy of Federal legislation, as administered by Gen. CANBY in that State. The Governor cannot co-operate in the purposes of the Conservatives who aided in his election, and a rupture between them is confidently predicted. Since his election, he has committed himself to Republican ideas and to the support of the National Administration too decidedly to leave to the Democracy any hope of manipulating him as their ready tool. His Executive powers, beyond the approval of Legislative acts, are limited, and with a two-thirds majority against him, he could accomplish really nothing, in resistance to the rebel current. Purged of its disqualified members, the Legislature will be more than two-thirds Republican, and the Executive influence may then be felt.

WE QUOTE from the little speech of Hon. ASA PACKER at Philadelphia:

"I will endeavor to do my part to lead you, as you have placed me in the van, to victory, if possible—and if not, I am certain the defeat shall not be attributable to a lack of anything that I can do. (Applause and cheering.)

"You will excuse me from making a speech at this time, for talking is not a part of my vocation. (Applause.) There are those whose vocation and calling it is to talk: mine is to work! (Voices, "good, good; that's what we want," and cheering.) I will leave the talking for those whose forte it is, and will endeavor, for myself, to do my share of the work."

There is a charmingly simple frankness in these revelations. The candidate is conscious of his inability to make set speeches, but how significantly he pledges himself to another form of usefulness! There "shall be no lack of anything he can do," and he means "to do his share." And "that's what we want," howled the hungry wolves about him! He can't talk, he can't write, but he can buy the Democracy, body and soul! The people will see about this.

A CORRESPONDENT asks:

How much publicity was given to the applications for pardon of John W. Robinson, the Halls, the first pardon of young Sims, and of others within the sphere of every man's knowledge in Allegheny county?

In each and all of the cases here referred to, notice of the pending application was advertised in some journal of this city, in strict compliance with the Executive requirement. It is possible that these advertisements were purposely inserted in the obscurest of the city press, and in the smallest of type, but no Executive order can guard against that half-evasion of its spirit. Governor GEARY has never made a solitary exception to his rule, insisting upon proof of publication in some local journal of regular issue, before he will consider any application for his clemency. He then examines the recommendations, the names of the signers and their leading reasons being regularly reported at the annual meeting of the Legislature. It is evident, therefore, that our correspondent cannot make good the point that he would like. Criticisms upon the sound and honest judgment of the present Executive will be of more value, when somebody succeeds in showing that any of Gov. GEARY's predecessors have done more, or even as much, to guard the prerogative against any form of abuse.

AWAKE: AROUSE:

If the Republicans of Pennsylvania are apathetic and indifferent, the Democrats are not. Never were they more vigilant and laborious than at this very moment. If hard and persistent work will give them the crown of victory in October, they mean to win and wear it. True, they are not making an active campaign, in the ordinary meaning of that term; nor do they intend to make such an one unless forced into it, by movements on the Republican side. They believe their chances to be better with a "still hunt" than with a "loud" hunt. For many years past they have joined in well defined issues, have gone before the people, with all the powers of argumentation and appeal they could master, and have been beaten at all points. Repeated defeats have not only taught them caution, but have dictated the employment of a different strategy.

They are aware that the Republicans, in a certain sense, are sated with victories, and lulled, by over confidence, that their ascendancy cannot be shaken. These are both delusive and perilous states of mind for individuals or parties, charged in any manner with high missions, to fall into. While they remain therein, they are, with comparative ease, taken at disadvantage and overcome.

Nor is the only danger which has arisen from the multiplied and brilliant triumphs of the Republicans. While they have indicated in the sight of all men the great elementary ideas which gave them their distinction, they have, through the propitious orderings of Providence, been enabled to go much farther than they had faith originally to propose or conceive possible. As they advanced, unexpected doors were opened before them. Even the difficulties and dangers they were called to confront, and which arose out of the very earth on which they stood, contributed both to their hardihood to dare and to their strength to achieve. Meantime, the domination they attained, produced heart-burnings and alienations among them. If party ambitions were gratified, individual aspirations were often left unsatisfied. In the divisions of the honors and emoluments consequent on victories, it was simply impossible to meet the wishes and expectations of all, and hence innumerable disappointments were inflicted. The possession of governmental patronage proved, as it always must, a source of weakness rather than of power. Various personal griefs exist, which paralize not a few of our most active and efficient workers. It is full time for all these seriously to consider whether, for low reasons of this kind, they can afford to imperil the consummation of the great work which now depends on the ratification of the fifteenth amendment, and the proper reorganization of the Union. We have no doubt that when the case shall be presented in this light, that personal dissatisfactions will be dismissed, and that considerations of a higher order will be gladly permitted to bear sway.

What is most needed, just now, is for the leaders of the Republican organization to take an exact view of the situation and then adopt the measures which are needful. The masses await the signals of those they have chosen for that purpose, and are impatient to respond to any proper call upon their activity.

The Republicans of the State cannot afford at this crisis to lose the Governor and the balance of power in the Supreme Court. Important measures remain to be consummated, and vital principles to be established by judicial decrees.

A year from next winter the State will have to be divided into Congressional and Legislative districts. To surrender this power into the hands of the Democrats, will be to remit the State into their possession, to be wrenched away again only by prodigious outlays of time and effort.

In view of all the facts we appeal to Republicans, here and throughout the Commonwealth, to shake off their apathy, to cease bickerings and contentions, to promptly close up their ranks, and enter vigorously upon the work before them. A simultaneous onset, such as we made last year, and on several previous occasions, will quickly decide the fate of the field in our favor. Up, men! and at them.

The Cotton Crop.

The general report of the cotton crop is highly encouraging. Along the Atlantic coast large quantities of fertilizers have been used, great care has been exercised in the selection of seed and better implements employed, while the laborers are more faithful and reliable. It is stated that the whole area planted is about 15 per cent. greater than last year, increasing the surface in cotton to fully 8,000,000 acres. Tennessee, Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri report a slight decline in acreage, while the increase is given as fellows: North Carolina, 10 per cent.; South Carolina, 9 per cent.; Georgia, 18 per cent.; Florida, 25 per cent.; Alabama, 8 per cent.; Mississippi, 14 per cent.; Louisiana, 16 per cent.; Texas, 32 per cent.; Arkansas, 12 per cent.

A SNAKE sixteen feet long and fifteen inches through at the thickest point is reported to have been killed by a Mr. Hall, in Richland county, a few days ago. He attacked it first with a hoe, but finally climbed upon a fence just over the snake, broke its back with a large stone and then hopped its head off with the hoe.

THE Nashville State Journal prints the following letter:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,
July 16, 1869.

Hon. W. B. Stokes, Nashville, Tennessee:

MY DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your letter relating to the political contest in Tennessee.

I am greatly interested in your success—believing that the future political character and general prosperity of the State depend largely upon the continuance of the Republican party in power.

It is quite likely that Mr. Senter is receiving the support of members of the Republican party, but it is certain that he is also receiving the unanimous support of enemies of the Republican party, the enemies of the Congressional plan of Reconstruction, and of the principles embodied in the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States. The interests of the loyal people of Tennessee, both white and black, especially the interests of the black people, are to be promoted, and the rights of all are to be made secure by your success. The platform of the party is not so good an indication of their purpose as can be obtained from a knowledge of the political character and opinions of the men who control the party. I am sure that you, and those who are supporting you in Tennessee, will sustain the principles of the Republican party, but we have no right to expect that those who for eight years have opposed the government and resisted measures for its reconstruction, are now to yield cheerful support to the Republican party.

Very truly yours,
GEO. S. BOUTWELL.

Interesting Religious Ceremonies—Laying of the Corner-Stone of the John Wesley Chapel, Allegheny.

On Sunday afternoon last, at half past two o'clock, a very interesting religious ceremony was held in Allegheny on the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of the new John Wesley Chapel on Porter alley, between Roberts and Arthurs streets. Among the distinguished clergymen present were Rev. Bishop Loguin, Rev. Dr. D. B. Matthews, Rev. Dr. N. H. Williams and other well known and zealous divines. Dr. Matthews preached the sermon of the occasion from 1st Peter, 2d chap., 6th verse: "Behold I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious; and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded." The eloquence and beauty of the sermon impressed all with the high ability, culture and zeal of the gifted preacher. The address occupied an hour and a quarter in its delivery, and was listened to with marked attention by the vast audience present, and left a deep impression on all who heard it. At the conclusion of the sermon a collection was taken up, and old and young, white and colored, generously contributed. An imposing procession was then formed, the four old trustees of the church leading, the members of the Conference, the Rev. Bishop and clergy following, singing under the direction of Rev. Dr. Williams an appropriate hymn. As the place was reached the stone was filled with rare and valuable coins and other historical documents when it was sealed and set to place. The Bishop then made a beautiful and eloquent address, after which prayer and benediction followed and the great concourse separated for their homes.

The site of the chapel has been partially occupied by a rather old structure capable of accommodating perhaps several hundred people. Owing to the increase in the congregation, it has been found necessary to erect an addition to the building, which will probably make its capacity twice as great as it is now. The liberality evinced in the contribution of the necessary funds for the building purposes is very creditable to the colored people. The lot upon which the addition will be erected was the property of the congregation from the first. The work will be pushed forward with all the expedition possible, and in a few months the congregation will doubtless have a place of worship which, for neatness and accommodation, will compare favorably with any in this vicinity.

A Romance Condensed.

On the sultry afternoon of June 25th, 1869, when the sun was obscured by the smoke from the Point, a solitary policeman might have been seen walking his beat along Market street, towards Water street, at which point were congregated two women and one man, engaged in loud and boisterous conversation. The females attempted to settle the difficulty by a fight, when the man interfered, whereupon the policeman, whom we shall call Garrison, arrested the trio and conducted them to the watch house, where we learned the cause of the difficulty to be as follows: The names of the parties arrested were Harvey Morgan, Mary Morgan and Hannah Leslie. It is alleged that about nine years since when Harvey was a youth of twenty five summers, he met in Wales, the country of his birth, Mary, of whom he became enamored, and who in due time became his wife, he promising to love, cherish protect, and cling to her through sickness and in health. After four years of wedded bliss, Harvey concluded to come to America to try his fortunes, promising to send for Mary as soon as he had located himself on this side of the fish pond. Here Mary's story, so far as her personal knowledge extends, closes for the present. On arriving in this city Harvey met Hannah Leslie, the sight of whose bewitching face caused him to forget Mary, who was in Wales, and transfer his protection to the charming Hannah, with whom he has resided until the present time. A short time since they emigrated to Ohio, but returned recently. During their absence from the city, Mary being unable to obtain intelligence from her husband, came across the water in search of him and met him for the first time in company with Hannah, at the place mentioned. It appeared from what we could learn of the affair, that Harvey and Hannah had household goods worth several hundred dollars, which Mary was desirous of obtaining possession of. The parties deposited $25 each for their appearance this morning, when there will probably be a sequel to this story, if not another side.

Subsequently information was made before Alderman Thomas against Morgan for desertion, and Hannah for fornication, by their opponent, upon which they were arrested and locked up for a hearing. It is said they intended leaving the city, their money and sorrows here for a more congenial clime, when their expectations were suddenly nipped by this last cruel turn of fate.

Free Trade Enterprise in Pittsburgh.

The walls and fence corners of the city were yesterday handsomely decorated with flaming posters, setting forth the beauties and advantages of the system of Free Trade. The posters are artistic and expensive pieces of typographical work, and the enterprise which prompted their distribution in Pittsburgh, the very citadel of Protection, is exceedingly refreshing in this warm weather. An ardent opponent of Free Trade has furnished us with the following interpretation of the posters, not by any means confining himself to the strict wording of the original:

The British Free Trade League (yclept "American,") composed of contributors to the noble "Alabama," hold

That we have the same right to sell our goods on American soil, through our American agents, that any "Yankee" has.

That we should be free to seek our own welfare in selling our goods—pirate ships included—even though we should ruin every American manufacturer and ship builder.

That so far as we are deprived of these rights we are in slavery.

That, having had the advantage of four hundred years of the "protective system" at home, we are now fully prepared to offer the blessings of free trade to the rest of mankind.

That, having reduced the laboring man to hopeless servitude in the old country we offer the same blessed condition to him in America.

That it is demoralizing to the country to turn quiet farms into manufacturing villages.

That the present high prices for grain and other farm products are the results of the "protective system," caused by the "war," and should be immediately reduced so as to prevent further demoralization of the farmers.

That purely in the interest of morality we propose to set forth, from time to time, other reasons in favor of the immortal principles of free trade, and show the blessings that will result to the free American people (whom we dearly love) from their universal adoption.

WM. LAIRD, President.
RAPHAEL SEMMES, Sec'y.

Yearly membership 25 cts., including a share in the stock of the "Alabama."

South Pittsburgh Councils.

The regular monthly meeting of the South Pittsburgh Councils was held last evening in Justice Barker's office. Present—Messrs. Brown, Kier, Haines, Humphreys and Sheargold. Burgess Roberts in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The bill of John Phillpot, for work and labor done on streets, amounting to $432 50, was approved.

The Clerk read an ordinance authorizing a contract to be entered into with Mr. A. Patterson for street markers and metallic numbers for houses. The ordinance was read three times and passed.

On motion of Mr. Brown the Philadelphia plan of numbering the houses in the borough was adopted.

Several bids were offered for the grading and paving of Chestnut alley.

That of Messrs. Scanlon & Shouse, who offered to do the work in a workmanlike manner, using the best stone procurable, and a bottom of twelve inches of Allegheny gravel, at the rate of $1,20 per square yard, was accepted.

Mr Mulholland was elected Street Commissioner of the borough for the unexpired term of one year.

On motion of Mr. Humphreys the burgess was authorized to secure the services of A. M. Brown, Esq., in defending the borough in the suit brought against it by Christian Wedekind.

It will be remembered that Mr. Wedekind is the gentleman who fell over the side of the road leading up to Mount Washington, and was injured somewhat thereby. He lays his damages at ten thousand dollars.

On motion of Mr. Brown the Street Commissioner was ordered to repair the Mount Washington road.

Mr. Haines moved that Bingham street, from Third to Fourth, and Chestnut, from First to Third, be graded and paved and that the Burgess be authorized to receive bids. Carried.

On motion adjourned.

Base Ball.

The weather has been rather unpropituos the last few days, for the exercise of this national sport, and as a consequnce the Baltic, of Wheeling, who have been in the city, have had no opportunity to fulfill their object, as much to the chagrin of our players as to themselves. Two matches were arranged for, were commenced at the times designated, and were both suddenly closed by the falling rain. The game yesterday in this respect was but a repetition of that attempted on Saturday, with the exception that the third inning was reached when the shower came. The two innings had been played with a tally of three runs for each club. In the third, the Olympic gained nine runs, and the Baltic five, with one man to go out, when game was called. A large company had assembled and considerable interest was felt in the match, which was thus so unsatisfactorily terminated, The Baltic's leave for home this morning very much disappointed at the result, but it is probable they will return some time during the season. They carry with them the good wishes of all with they became acquainted.

An Official Art Gallery.

One of the most pleasant and attractive public offices, in either city, is that of Superintendent McCandless, of the Allegheny Fire Alarm, located in the third story of the City Building. The Fire Alarm apparatus, all bright and shining as a mirror, with its curious and delicate mechanism, of itself is an interesting feature, but added to this the lover of fine arts may pass away time very agreeably in an examination of the paintings, drawings, statuettes and other evidences of taste which adorn the walls and appropriate niches on every side. The paintings and drawings are nearly all the handiwork of Mr. McCandless, during his leisure moments, and would reflect credit upon an artist of considerably less modest pretentions. One of them designed from recollection, represents a camp scene in "Old Virginia," and bears with it to many a "blue coat" the memory of days now gone.

Throughout, the office has a cosy, neat and pleasant appearance, which is in every way creditable to the culture and taste of the occupant.

A BOSTON negress, 17 years of age, has two perfect heads and four arms and four legs. In other words she consists of two bodies, which, uniting half way down the spine, continue one body to the end of the spine, and then separates. The woman enjoys perfect health and converses intelligently. Both countenances are well formed, and resemble each other. The woman talks with both mouths to different persons at the same time, and on different topics. She talks freely and answered several questions put to her. In reply to the interrogatory, if the two heads did not quarrel sometimes she said they used to dispute, but they had learned better now. She can raise one or all four arms at the same time, or put forward one or all her lower limbs. She eats and sleeps well, and says she enjoys life. She was born in the South, and when between one and two years of age was sold by her master for $30,000.

THE British Royal Humane Society has issued the following hints: "Avoid bathing within two hours after a meal. Avoid bathing when exhausted by fatigue or from any other cause. Avoid bathing when the body is cooling after perspiration: but—bathe when the body is warm, provided no time is lost in getting into the water. Avoid chilling the body by sitting or standing naked on the banks or in boats after having been in the water. Avoid remaining too long in the water—leave the water immediately there is the slightest feeling of chilliness. Avoid bathing altogether in the open air if, after having been a short time in the water, there is a sense of chilliness with numbness of the hands and feet. The vigorous and strong may bathe early in the morning on an empty stomach. The young, and those that are weak, had better bathe three hours after a meal—the best time for such is from two to three hours after breakfast. Those who are subject to attacks of giddiness and faintness, and those who suffer from palpitation and other sense of discomfort at the heart, should not bathe without first consulting their medical adviser.

GRACE GREENWOOD tells a story illustrating a new method of curing those who are inclined to suicide. The father of a family, after two attempts to make away with himself, at length succeeded in shooting himself through the heart. His widow, an energetic, sensible woman, perceived that her eldest daughter was inclined to follow the footsteps of her father, even unto death. The mother watched her daughter narrowly, and one day found her soon after she had swung herself off from an old chest in the garret. She cut her down and tenderly brought her to. Then, taking the knotted halter, she vigorously laid it over her shoulders, saying: "I'll put a stop to this suiciding! I'm not going to have it run in our family, I'll have you understand." This treatment was successful in checking the mental disease.

TALKING SHOP.—A farmer in a remote district of the Yorkshire (England) wolds recently met a country rector who had been two years absent on travel. "Mr. Rector," said the farmer, "you've been to the Holy Land, I hear." "I have, John, and got safe back, you see." "Well, I often thou't I'd like to hear about the spot. It's a fine country, I lay." "Well," said the rector, "I saw Lebanon and Jerusalem, and the twelve palm trees, and the wells of water in the great desert, and we went across the Jerdan, and we went up Mount ——" "Excuse me interruptin' you, Mr. Rector, noo. But if it be a fair question, hoo was turmets (turnips) looking out yonder?"

LORD CECIL, the crazy Evangelist who travels about Canada, sings a parody even more blasphemous than that English revival hymn which substitutes "Come to God" for "Tommy Dodd," in the pot-house melody of that name. My Lord recently treated his fellow passengers on a St. Lawrence steamboat to a hymn to the tune "Champagne Charlie," the refrain of which was:

"Christian Charlie is my name!
Christian Charlie is my name!
Always ready for my God!
Always ready for my God!" etc., etc.

ONE OF THE MOST ASTOUNDING CURES EVER PUBLISHED—ATTESTED BY OVER FIFTY WITNESSES.

The remarkable cure of Miss Fisher, of Beaver county, is one worthy of more than a passing notice, especially when so many persons are suffering not only with diseases of the eyes, and partial or total blindness, but likewise with other chronic ailments which Dr. Keyser has treated with such astounding success.

The lady concerned was doomed to perpetual blindness, which through Dr. Keyser's skill was completely removed, the truth of which has been vouched for by a sufficient number of witnesses to establish the fact beyond all cavil. The subjoined letter from the young lady's brother speaks for itself:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you: she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

THE WORLD GROWS WISER.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and (literally) returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic aperient and antibilious properties as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorous as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated: and the debilitated being, aware of the fact, prefers the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and re-vitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In summer, when the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for the traveling community.

J. B. HARRIS

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and

MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fire in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, July 24, 1869.

The rise in gold, as predicted early last week, when we stated that with 135¼, or about that, the market had touched bottom has set in with more firmness than usual. The market opened at an advance of but one-quarter per cent., declined to closing quotations of Saturday last, and suddenly jumped from 136¾ to 137⅜. The market for to-morrow will now depend on the amounts of gold engaged for shipment, and should they prove to be large, a further advance must be looked for as there is a fast steamer on Thursday, and an extra German steamer on Saturday. The shipment of coin will, in all probability, be much larger this week than the previous, and we should not be surprised to see an advance established above or very nearly to forty per cent. So far no cliques exist for the rise of gold, but it is rumored that they will take hold of it and put up the price high and then follow with stock and bonds. If the announcement of the report from Washington, that bonds will be sold during August in the same proportion as in July prove true, money will be easy, and since gold will get scarce in exports, it will cost but little to have it carried, and may command a premium before the end of the month of August.

Bonds are strong but have advanced only a trifle.

Stocks are strong, but, beside the New York roads, do not seem to have any strength.

Money easy at about 9 per cent. whilst business is dull.

Stocks were strong most of the day, with much excitement and buoyancy in the Vanderbilt shares. Harlem was at one time 18 per cent. above Saturday's rates. It is believed certain operators have taken the advantage of the prevailing excitement in regard to Vanderbilt stock, and of the fact that there is but a small amount of Harlem stock available for speculative transaction, and have made the rapid advance of the past two days. In this connection a report has been circulated to the effect that the capital stock of the Harlem is to be doubled, and the road then leased to the new consolidation of the New York Central and Hudson for 999 years, and that 8 per cent. per annum is to be guaranteed on the increased capital.

Late in the afternoon the market became weak, and Harlem dropped over 10 per cent., selling from 170 down to 159¼, New York Central from 218 down to 216½, and Hudson from 194 down to 191¾. At the close there was a slight rally, and the market left off strong. The balance of the market was generally firm and did not sympathize to any extent with the decline in Vanderbilt stocks. Michigan Southern and Rock Island were the features of the western shares.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, July 26, 1869.

There was a fair supply of cattle on sale to-day, about 650 head. The sales foot up nearly 800 head, but it should be borne in mind that some droves were wholesaled and afterwards retailed, and consequently, reported twice. The supply, however, was fully up to the demand, and had it not been for some outside buyers there would have been quite a number left over unsold; and even with the presence of shippers the market was a little tame and with the exception of of prime fat steers, prices compared with last week ruled lower. Some few extra brought 8 cents but the great proportion of the best cattle sold at from 7¼@7¾, and medium to good, at 6@6½. Stock cattle continue dull, but unchanged at 4@5½.

Of the Cattle on sale to-day, there were 24 car loads from the West, as follows: Chicago, 6; Cincinnati 2; Forrest, 1; Mansfield, 3; Mt. Victory, 2; Fort Wayne, 1; Alliance, 1; Barnesville, 1 and 4 cars of which we did not learn the place of shipment. In addition there were 161 head State cattle, 64 from Washington Co; 91 from Green and 6 from Butler—last week there were over 200 head from these counties.

In regard to quality the offerings today were about up to the standard of the past month, and about what is generally expected this season of the year, consisting mainly of medium grass cattle—not the kind sought after by No. 1 butchers. As a consequence, all the best cattle on sale were picked up at full prices, while the common grades were very slow, and did not bring relatively as good figures.

D. P. Moore to Rothchilds 13 head Tuscarawas Co. cattle, mixed, at 5¼; 7 bulls to Shamberg at 3¾.

H. Munroe to Cash 20 Western Reserve mixed cows and steers, at 7,15.

John Hyde to E. Davis 20 head Belmont cows and steers, at 5½.

L. Rothchilds 20 head Chicago steers, at 6½@7¼.

I. Zeigler 24 head Washington Co. steers, cows, heifers and bulls, at 3½@7.

S. Lowensteine 23 head Washington Co. steers, heifers and bulls, at 4¾@6,87.

Kraus & Haas 54 head Ohio steers, at 5½@7¼.

Peter Hartman 40 head Green Co. steers, at 6@7½.

M. Verner 51 head Green Co. steers and heifers, at 5¼@7.

Jacob Needy 35 head steers, at 7@8 cts.

S. Marks & Bro. 105 Illinois and Ohio stock, at 6@8 cts.

Traurman & Lobman 80 head at 6¾@7½—20 head over.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 18 for Hudson, at 7¼@8; 33 head for Morrison, from Illinois, at 6¾@7¾.

Katz & Keefer 24 Western steers, at 5½@6½.

Greenwald & Kahn 60 head Ohio steers, at 7@8.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 60 mixed stock, at 5@7.

Hedges & Taylor 67 head Ohio and Illinois steers and heifers, at 5@6½.

Smith & Blue wholesaled 20 head Ohio steers to Lewis, at 7,15; 20 head Ohio steers to Hartzell, at 6,25; retailed 11 head at 5@6.

Carr & McAllister had 20 head—up to 9:30 they were unsold.

Jas. Hanlin 17 head Washington Co. cows, steers and heifers, at 5@6.

C. Beeler 6 head Butler Co. scalawags, at 4@4¾.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was only a moderate supply of this grade of stock on sale to-day, about 1,025 head, and with an improved demand, the market ruled stronger and the best grades of both Sheep and Lambs ruled higher than last week, and even at the advance the supply of this kind was scarcely equal to the demand. Prime fat Sheep may be quoted at 5@5½ cents per pound and Lambs sold at from $1,50@4 per head, for inferior to extra.

Stakely & Bro. 118 head Lambs, at $1,50 to $3,75@4,00.

Humes to Stakely & Bro. 89 Lambs—at $2,62½.

Adam Eckert 20 Sheep, at $3,50@5,00 per head; 115 head Lambs, at $1,87@3,80.

Fowler & Walters 120 Lambs, at 75@2,00; 60 Sheep, at $2,00@3,50.

Sheitemantle & Beighle 60 head Sheep and Lambs, at $1,50@3,25.

Garwin & Co. 130 head Sheep and Lambs at an average of $2,40.

John F. Neely 91 Lambs, at $1,50@3,50; 21 Sheep, at $2,25@3.50.

Kerr 50 Washington Co. Sheep, at $3,50@4,75 per head.

Johnathan Davis sold 50 head, at $2,00@2,50.

J. Rinn sold 40 Sheep, at 4½@5 cts per pound.

C. Beeler 80 Lambs, at $1,00@2,50.

HOGS.

There is a fair demand for stock Hogs, while for fat Hogs the inquiry is very light, and is likely to continue so until after the hot weather is over. Sales of the former at 10@10¼, and the latter, at 10@11 cts. gross.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

For Preserving Green Corn.—Take the corn when it is sufficiently matured for table use, remove the husk from it, and boil it nearly as much as you would if you were going to use it on the table; let it cool; cut it from the cob; take any sized stone jar, put the corn in the jar with common salt; first a layer of salt half an inch, then a layer of corn two inches; pack closely; then half an inch of salt and two inches of corn, until the jar is filled; tie a cloth over the jar and set it away. It will not form a brine, and will only take up a certain quantity of salt, so that there is no danger of putting too much on it. To prepare it for use soak it over night in fresh water, remove the water in the morning, putting on it fresh water for a short time. Stew and serve it up for dinner.

Washing Fluid.—This is a recipe worth $1,000. Take one pound of sal-soda and half a pound of unslaked lime, put them in a gallon of water, boil twenty minutes; let it stand till cool; then drain off and put in a jug. Soak your clothes one night, wring them out, rub in plenty of soap, and in one boiler of clothes, well covered with water, add one teaspoonful of the washing fluid. Boil half an hour, then wash them with suds, rinse, and your clothes will look splendid.—F. A. Row, Jr., in Moore's Rural New Yorker.

To Keep the Bugs Away.—Protect your melon, squash and cucumber vines thus: Take sticks four inches long and one half inch in diameter—pine is best. Wrap one inch of one end in a piece of cotton or linen. Dip this in turpentine and stick one or two in each hill, leaving only the wrapped part above ground. The odor of the turpentine does the business. I have tried this four years, says the correspondent of an exchange paper, with uniform success.

A Sun Dry House.—The best dried fruit is that dried in the sun, but drying in the sun in the open air in this climate is a precarious business, as many know to their sorrow. Two years ago I hit upon a plan that secures all the advantages of sun-drying, as usually practiced, with none of its defects.

My plan is to take hot-bed sash and lay them on a frame similar to that of the hot-bed—in fact, if the hot-bed has not been removed, the dry house is already built, and it is only necessary to lay a floor inside on which to lay the fruit. When the fruit has been placed inside, put on the sash, but raise both ends about two inches from the frame, so the air can circulate. The sun's rays will penetrate through the glass freely, and give out their heat below the glass, and being confined, will cause the heat to be much greater than it is in the open air. The hotter the atmosphere, the greater is its capacity for holding moisture; hence, the hot air absorbs the moisture from the fruit, and the sash being raised a little, the hot air escapes at the higher end of the sash, and fresh air supplies its place at the lower end, and thus there is a constant current of hot, dry air passing over the fruit, and it dries with astonishing rapidity. Two years ago, wishing to dry some green sugar corn (which is about the hardest thing to dry of which I have any knowledge), I fixed up my hot-bed as described, and the corn was gathered from the field, husked, parboiled, cut from the cob, placed in the hot-bed, and by evening we had the corn dry as a bone. As good dried corn I never saw before; our supply lasted two years, and the last was as good as the first.

By this plan you do not have to be on the watch for every little shower and remove your fruit to keep it from being wet and spoiled; being covered with glass, the water will run off, and as soon as the sun comes out the drying process is resumed; neither will it be influenced by dew if left out over night. Another advantage gained by this method is, that the heat is so intense that flies and other insects will not molest the fruit while drying, and when dried it comes out clean and sweet.

Let all who wish to dry fruit or vegetables try this plan. I am confident it will give satisfaction. Caution: Be sure to raise the sash as recommended, else the fruit will burn the same as it would in an oven.—Cor. Rural World.

Making Sweet Pickles.—To the numerous receipts already published on this subject, we add the following:

Cut the tomatos through, or if large slice in three; let them stand in weak brine over night. To a quart of vinegar add three pounds of sugar; in this vinegar cook the tomatoes until a fork can easily be passed through them. As fast as they are cooked, take them out with a fork and lay them down in a jar—say two or three layers of tomatoes; sprinkle pulverized cinnamon or cloves, and a thin layer of sugar; then alternately tomatoes, spices and sugar, cooking all the tomatoes in the same vinegar; if necessary add more sugar and vinegar. When the jar is filled, cover the tomatoes with good cider vinegar, cold, throwing away the vinegar in which the tomatoes were cooked. Lay some horseradish root over the top of the pickles, and put a weight on to keep them covered. This receipt is equally good for ripe cucumbers. I have tested it for the past two years and found no trouble in keeping good pickles.

Pare clingstone peaches just ripe. To four pounds of fruit allow two pounds of sugar, one-half pint of cider vinegar, one table spoonful of cinnamon, one small one of cloves, tied in a thin rag. Use a porcelain kettle. Boil the vinegar, sugar and spice until the sugar is melted; then add the fruit, and boil until tender. Remove the fruit with a skimmer, and boil the liquor to a thick syrup; return the fruit and simmer until done; pour out and let stand till cool; then seal up tight, removing the spice. If they do not keep, and are not excellent, it will be the fault of the receipt, for I have had my fruit keep two years or more and as good as when first put up. The same recipe answers for quinces, pears and cherries—quinces and pears to be first boiled tender in water.

Immense Yield of Wheat—Mr. Dillman, who resides on the North branch of the Weeping Water, brought to our office today a sample of some wheat called the Seven headed California Wheat, which he grew on his own farm this season. He sowed about half an acre and feels assured that he will reap at least thirty bushels, while some of his neighbors estimate it at more. The head is composed of several grain-bearing sprigs, each of which contains seven or eight grains. It thus produces more grain to the same length of head than any other. The flour is very white and fine—rather superior to ordinary wheat in that respect. The plant is hardy and strong and will not blow down so easily as ordinary wheat. This is evidenced by the fact that his half acre has not been damaged by the recent storms, while neighboring fields of the common wheat have been nearly ruined.—Nebraska City Press, July 15

Puddling the Roots.—Many of our readers may have neglected to transplant a choice shrub or tree, until it seems to them too late in the season. They will find, however, that the operation can be safely performed if they will take up the plants and puddle the roots—that is, dip them in mud made of about the consistency of thin mortar. The puddle-hole should be made ready before the plants are lifted, and the roots should be dipped in the mud before the sun and air and air can have any effect upon them. After the roots are coated with earth, they may be carried to the place where they are to be planted. Shrubs that have been heeled in until the leaves have started may be safely removed by using the puddle.

Vinegar.—Few persons are ignorant of the pernicious influence of sulphuric, nitric and muriatic acids upon the human organs of digestion and the entire alimentary canal, and yet it is declared upon good authority that much of the vinegar in commerce, or liquid sold as vinegar, is made by the use of these concentrated acids, at a cost of not more than one or two cents a gallon.

The best vinegar in general use in the United States is acidified cider. In Europe acidified wine is the most esteemed; and hence the name vin, wine; aigre sour. In England malt vinegar is popularly used. Wholesome vinegar is prepared by the oxidation of alcohol, and from weak solutions of sugar, and from the mixture of starch with yeast—from acetic acid, indeed, however obtained. But all these preparations are expensive, and the temptation to produce a cheap imitation is apparent.

Sulphuric acid, the cheapest and most intensely sour, is the most generally preferred in the fabrication of spurious vinegar, although it is also the most injurious to health, as may be conjectured from its softening effects upon vegetables placed in it for pickling purposes. It may be detected, even in the least effective quantities, by placing a portion of the vinegar in a glass, and dropping into it a solution of the chloride of barium, or of the nitrate of barita. If the vinegar continues clear, sulphuric acid is not present; a cloudy appearance would indicate the formation of the sulphate of barita, which will prove insoluble, no matter what acid may be subsequently applied.

Cultivation of Turnips.—Whether grown for stock or not, every farmer and villager will find it to his advantage to cultivate some of them. Plats of ground where early potatoes and peas have been removed, fence corners, patches around the outside of corn fields, etc., may with but little labor be sown, and many bushels raised without further labor than pulling. Do not sow the seed too thick unless you intend to thin by hand while the crop is growing. A common thimbleful to the square rod is a very good rule. When sown broadcast in the field cultivation, one pound and a half of seed is about the right quantity per acre; if sown in drills, one pound is sufficient.

Turnip seed should be sown from the 20th to the 25th of July; sow soon after a rain, if possible, when the soil will work up mellow. For table use, no turnip is better than the Russia or Sweet, which should be sown early in July. Among the larger varieties are the White Globe, While Norfolk and Aberdeen. The early White Flat is a good variety and very generally grown. Golden Ball and White Stone are raised to some extent.

Curing Poll-Evil.—James Seafield, Fairfield, Md., writes: I had a horse that was pronounced incurable of the poll-evil, as the horse doctor had given him up to die. I thought I would try an experiment. I laid open the swelling with a knife and forced it to run; after it had run twenty-four hours I washed out the incision with soap and water, and sprinkled quick lime into the cavity. This process of washing out and liming I repeated every twenty-four hours for about two weeks, at the end of which time the swelling had gone down and the sore healed over. This I did two years ago, and there is no sign of the return of the poll-evil. I would advise a trial.

ITEMS.

A correspondent of the Southern Planter and Farmer says that having exhausted his patience in trying different remedies for the protection of melons, cucumbers, squashes, etc., from the striped bug, he gave up in despair. Hoping to revive a few plants of muskmelons, he poured a pint of water on each plant just about sun-down. The bugs, which had been secreted in the top of the hill, immediately flew out and took to the grass and weeds. They did not return during the night, and the next morning, before the mud dried to their satisfaction, they had taken refuge from the heat somewhere else. He repeated the experiment on a larger scale with perfect success.

Some persons are contending that the mortality in stock, especially of hogs and cattle, is caused by feeding too largely of corn. This grain is too heating, and makes oil and fat instead of flesh and blood and bone. Hence, the hog cholera and kindred diseases so rife of late years. It is claimed that seven bushels of peas are more than equal to ten of corn, and they are perfectly healthy. And yet the pea-weevil discourages the growth of peas south of Canada. Good crops have, however, been raised in Illinois, and it may be well to try them everywhere.

A correspondent of the Rural World says that having noticed repeatedly in agricultural journals that hogs in orchards are a prevention of injury to fruits, he built a log house in his orchard for sows to farrow in and rear their pigs, and had calves and children to pick up the fallen fruit. The result is that he has not had a sound apple for three or four years. All have been wormy; but what has been extraordinary, the crops of peaches in 1867 and 1868 were excellent; not one worm in ten peaches.

A correspondent of the Country Gentlemen says: When a cow, horse or dog chokes with a potato or apple, drench it with six beaten eggs and two ounces of salt dissolved in them. On one occasion, when my rat dog was nearly choked to death, I ordered three eggs and an ounce of salt poured down his throat, and in a few minutes he was well. I shall never forget the gratitude this poor dog manifested to the two who gave him relief.

The Utica (N. Y.) Herald says: Averaging the results of several careful experiments in feeding corn to hogs shows that two bushels of corn in the ear, or one bushel of shelled corn, made nine and seven-twentieths pounds of pork, while the same amount ground into meal and mixed with water made eleven and one-eighth pounds of pork.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

Ten law breakers reposed sweetly on the soft couches afforded for their accommodation in the lockup, last evening.

Partnership Wanted.—We commend to the attention of our business friends the advertisement headed "Partnership Wanted." 2t

Committed.—Justice Ammon, of South Pittsburgh, yesterday, committed to jail for trial Thomas Jones, charged with assault and battery on oath of David J. Morgan.

Temperance Meeting.—A temperance meeting will be held this evening at 7½ o'clock, in the Diamond, Allegheny city. An address will be delivered by Rev. D. Hartman, of Altoona, an able lecturer on temperance.

Run Over.—Thomas Cauley, a resident of the city, was run over and had both legs cut off by a train of cars on the Panhandle Railroad, some distance from here yesterday morning. We did not learn the particulars.

Completed.—The new and elegant church edifice erected for the use of the First Presbyterian congregation, Allegheny, of which Rev. John T. Pressley is the venerable pastor, has been completed, and next Sabbath will be formally dedicated for divine worship.

Fire Alarm.—The alarm of fire last night, about nine o'clock, from Box 47, Pittsburgh Fire Alarm, was caused by the burning of a shed covering an oven in an alley off Penn street, near the Niagara Engine House. A few buckets of water quenched the flames with little damage.

Damaging Fruit Trees.—Jas. Miller and John Henry, a couple of boys about fifteen years of age, were brought to the office of Alderman Herren yesterday, charged with damaging the fruit trees on the premises of Patrick Reirdon by breaking off the branches and carrying off the fruit. The boys were committed to jail in default of bail for trial.

Relief Fire Company.—We were called upon by a delegation from the Relief Fire Company, who requested us to state that they have made no proposition to sell their apparatus to the city, and that they positively declined to sell to any parties. The Company own their apparatus and have it paid for, and consequently are not compelled to sell.

Serious Accident—Mr. Isaac Jones, a resident of the city, was seriously injured last evening, by being thrown from a buggy. Mr. Jones was out driving, and when passing Soho street his horse became frightened and ran away, throwing him out violently. He was removed to the residence of Mr. David Estep, where he received proper medical attention.

Improper Conduct.—A drunken man got on one of the Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway cars yesterday morning, and annoyed the passengers to such an extent with his boisterous conduct, that the conductor was compelled to have him arrested. He was locked up, and after becoming sober, he paid a fine of five dollars for his conduct, and was released

Alteration.—The ticket offices at the Union Depot are to be altered by having a six feet wide hall cut through each, through which persons will pass to secure tickets. This arrangement leaves the main hall unimpeded, and will thus obviate the crowding and inconvenience occasioned by purchasers of tickets by the present plan. It is an improvement which is very much needed.

Fearful.—Margaret and Andrew Beltman appeared at the office of Alderman Thomas, yesterday, very much agitated, and persuaded that official that Deitrick Farnhouse had been exhibiting a spirit of violence and hate toward them, which had been evinced in sundry dark and mysterious threats. The accused was brought to the Alderman's office, and failing to explain his utterances properly, was committed to jail for trial.

Fall from a Trestle.—Yesterday afternoon between five and six o'clock, a shoemaker residing on Federal street, Allegheny, while under the influence of liquor attempted to walk along the trestle work of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad, crossing Robinson street, when he fell through to the street, a distance of sixteen or twenty feet. He was rendered insensible by the fall and had to be hauled home. He was injured in the head and back, but it is probable will recover.

Resisting an Officer.—W. K. Mulholland made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging Ellen Taylor, John Taylor and Thomas Mackerell with resisting an officer while in the discharge of his duties. It appears that some days ago an information was made before Justice Elsessor, charging the defendants in this case with stealing a horse, and a search warrant was issued. The prosecutor went to execute the warrant, when the defendants drove him from the premises.

Painful Accident.—Saturday morning last, Mr. David Shaw, a farmer of Versailles township, while loading a wagon with wheat sheaves, accidentally fell from the top of the load striking with his back first upon a wheel and then rebounding against the ground with his head and shoulders. He was taken into the house and medical aid summoned, when it was found that no bones had been broken, but, from the intense pain he suffered when moved, it is feared that his injuries are internal and will prove fatal.

Felonious Assault and Battery.—W. A. Rump made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, charging Roger and Frank Bennett with felonious assault and battery. It appears that the prosecutor resides with the father of the defendants in Baldwin township, and a few days since in passing a pear tree attempted to pull a pear from it, when one of the defendants shot at him with a shot gun loaded with slugs, and that the charge entered his leg and side, inflicting severe wounds. The accused were arrested and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 each for a hearing.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—Officer Hague made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Thomas Keildecker with selling liquor on Sunday. It appears that some weeks since proceedings were instituted against the defendant to recover the penalty of fifty dollars, and judgment entered by the Mayor for fifty dollars and costs. An execution was issued, and after the officer had levied upon defendant's goods, the proceedings were stayed by a writ of certiorari. After a hearing in the last case, the accused was held to bail for his appearance at Court.

CITY COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting—Petitions and Communications—Reports of Committees—The Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad.

A regular monthly meeting of the Select and Common Councils of the city was held yesterday, (Monday,) July 26th, 1869.

Select Council.

Council was called to order at two o'clock P. M., by E. S. Morrow, Clerk, and a quorum not being present no business was transacted. The roll was again called at a quarter past two o'clock, when the following members answered to their names:

Messrs. Armstrong, Brown, Burgwin, Coffin, Dickson, Edwards, Gross, Hallman, Holmes, Jones, Kehew, Kirk, Littell, Lloyd, Marshall, Morrow, Murray, McClelland, McMahon, Ogdon, Rafferty, Rush, Schmidt, Scully, Shipton, Torrens, Wainwright, S. J., Wainwright, Z., Watson, White, Wilson, Zern.

On motion of Mr. Holmes, Mr. Burgwin was called to the chair.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS, &C.,

Mr. Edwards presented a petition for widening Park street. Referred to the Survey Committee.

THE CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

Mr. Ogden presented the following report;

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee to whom was referred the petition of citizens praying that the right of way be granted to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company for the purpose of making Western and Southern connections through the city, as well as the remonstrance against the use of Cherry alley for the said purpose, respectfully report: That the subject has been very fully examined into, discussed and considered by your Committe, and as the result, we herewith submit for the consideration of Councils, an ordinance granting the right of way along Water street to the Point, and from the Point up Duquesne way, by a single track, such distance as may be necessary to make the necessary connections referred to; the exact location and manner of constructing to be under the control of the proper city authorities. The selection of this route has been made by your Committe after mature deliberation beleiving it to be the most practicable, least inconvient and dangerous, and the route that will be the most benificial to the city. The Committe is well aware that many objections can and will be raised, but we claim that this route is the least objectionable of all others through the City, and that much advantages will be gained by the city at large, as will immeasurably overbalance all damages that can possibly arise by its construction. By the route proposed by the ordinance, no property will be damaged to any extent, but on the contrary generaly, we believe the property on both river fronts will be largely enhanced in value, where now exist old and dangerous frame shanties, fine brick buildings will appear. The only dangerous crossing will be that at Smithfield street, which can be carefully guarded. Along the wharf the track can be so laid that the passage of drays and other vehicles over them will be unobstructed and convenient, while the advantage to the shipper's interest will be the easy transfers of freight. To the iron trade and to the oil interests the advantages of the connections by this route will be apparent. In short we beleive the extension of the Connellsville Railroad and connections by this route will be of immesne advantage to all buisiness interests of the city.

Signed by W. N. Ogden, Chairman, and seven members of the Committee.

The report was received and filed.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

Mr. Fleming presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned having been appointed a Special Committee to inquire into the condition of the Water Supply Basins, beg leave to report that they attended to the duties of their appointment at the time; but, owing to the illness and absence from the city of the Chairman, they have been unable to present the result of their investigation until now.

At the time a portion of the Committee visited the basins there were scarcely ten feet of water in one of them and less than nine feet in the other. There was a quantity of oil floating on the surface of the water in both. From the appearance of the basins we judged they had not been cleaned for perhaps a year, and upon inquiry learned that such was the fact.

We earnestly recommend as a precaution against the water becoming more impure that Councils forthwith pass an ordinance requiring the basins to be thoroughly cleaned out, three times a year at least, and then filled and kept well supplied with water.

We would also recommend an ordinance compelling the removal inland of all privies fronting on and emptying into the Allegheny river above the point at which our water supply is obtained, within the city limits.

[Signed.] DAVID L. FLEMING,
JAMES POTTS,
S. MORROW.

The report was received, and after discussion referred to the Committee on Water, in conjunction with the City Solicitor.

NEW STREETS LOCATED.

Mr. Chislett, from the Survey Committee, presented their report, with the following plans:

For the location of Crescent street. Adopted.

Locating Herron avenue. Adopted.

Locating Butler street, Seventeenth Ward. Adopted.

Locating Lincoln avenue.

Mr. Morgan wished to know, if, in the location of any of these streets, the line had been changed and made to suit the wishes of any parties. There were various rumors afloat that such was the practice, and he wished to have the matter settled.

Mr. Chislett said that nothing of the kind had come before the Committee. That all the streets had been laid out by the City Engineer regardless of anything but the best route.

The plan was then adopted.

Locating St. Mary's avenue. Adopted.

For the opening and widening of Forty-Sixth street, accompanied by an ordinance. Plan adopted, and ordinance read three times and passed.

Locating Miner street. Adopted.

A plan and ordinance for the opening of Shady Lane. Laid over.

Also, an ordinance for the opening of Layng avenue. Laid over.

Locating the Four Mile Run Road. Against which there was presented a remonstrance. The protest was accepted and filed, and action on the adoption of the plan postponed.

SELECT COUNCIL BUSINESS.

Business from Select Council was next taken up. Their only non-concurrence was in the passage of an ordinance relative to the better supply of water in Lawrenceville, by the construction of stand pumps. Common Council laid the ordinance over.

RELATING TO ORDINANCES.

Mr. McClaren presented the following:

Resolved, That no ordinance for the grading of any street or avenue, or the changing of the grade thereof, the building of any sewer, or the paving of any street or avenue, shall be reported unless based upon a petition of a majority of the property holders interested, which petition shall be read at the time of reporting such ordinance to Council, and that every remonstrance presented shall be read previous to final action on any such ordinance.

Mr. Houston moved to lay the resolution on the table. Carried.

Mr. Boggs presented a petition for the extension of the sewer on Diamond street.

Referred to Committee on Streets.

Mr. Morgan: an ordinance providing for the granting of license for the sale of goods and merchandise by sample.

Laid over under the rules.

A RECONSIDERATION.

Mr. Houston moved a reconsideration of the action of Council upon the ordinance relative to the construction of stand pumps for the purpose of supplying Lawrenceville with a better supply of water. The gentleman said the motion was made for the purpose of concurring in the action of Select Council in the matter, authorizing the work to be done. It was represented as a matter of great importance to the residents of the locality designated, and the construction of the pumps was earnestly desired by them.

Mr. Scott said there was great difficulty in procuring water in the locality. By this arrangement all difficulty would be avoided.

After some further discussion, the motion to reconsider was carried, after which Common Council concurred with the Select Branch in the matter.

Adjourned.

The Humboldt Celebration.

The Standing Committee issued yesterday some one hundred and fifty invitations to as many gentlemen, to attend a meeting last night at Turner's Hall for the purpose of forming Committees and taking preliminary measures for a proper Humboldt Celebration. Seventy or eighty gentlemen were present, including many prominent Americans of various nationalities. Dr. Pershing was called to the chair. The report of the Standing Committee, including the list of the members of the various other Committees was adopted. Dr. Ehrhardt was chosen permanent chairman. Mr. Julius Montzheimer, Secretary; Dr. Meinertzhagen, Corresponding Secretary and Mr. August Hartz, Treasurer. The Secretary was commissioned to issue a circular notifying the members of the Committees of their appointment. After some discussion as to the language to be used at Committee meetings, it was sensibly decided to let the Committees use that language which they find most convenient; after which the meeting adjourned. Many of our most prominent citizens are included in the several Committees and the demonstration promises to be a successful and altogether nonpartisan one.

A Dangerous Swim.—Mr. Archibold Robinson, while watering his horse upon which he was seated, in the Monongahela river near Brownstown Sunday evening, allowed the animal to go beyond his depth, when both rider and horse narrowly escaped drowning. After floundering about for some time the animals head was turned towards the shore which he succeeded in reaching in an exhausted condition.

Look Here a Minute.—If you want a smooth, white and beautiful skin, resembling alabaster, you should stop using poisonous toilet powders, and give Milk of Violets a trial. The effect of its use, especially during hot weather, is wonderfully pleasing. Sold by druggists and fancy goods dealers.

[From the Pittsburgh Medical News.]

Not Consumption.

We have on our Books of Record the name, age, residence, date, disease and prescription of every case treated by us during the last twenty years. In these books are contained the names of over sixty thousand persons, and more than two hundred thousand prescriptions. In this vast number of cases every kind and variety of diseases have fallen under our observation, and every form of treatment has been fully tested.

In CONSUMPTION and "Lung Diseases" we have had ample opportunity to test not only every kind of treatment, but every kind of medicine.

We know there are many cases of disease that so nearly resemble consumption, but which is not that without a very careful diagnosis serious mistakes might be made, which would lead to very prejudicial results in the treatment. It is the duty of every physician to ascertain as nearly as possible the precise nature of every malady before prescribing. "No more certain sign is offered in disease than is found in the urinary secretion," says Simon. And in this disease, we are especially favored with indications in the urine which enable us to determine not only the facts relative to the true nature thereof, but to measure tolerably correctly the extent of the same.

We have thus detected and determined the extent of hundreds of cases of Consumption, many of which, being incipent only, have been cured by us in a very short time. And whilst we would not hold out inducement or promise a cure, in the "last stage" of this dreadful malady, we would just say, that we have cured many cases that so nearly resembled Consumption, that it was impossible to determine the fact by any other means than by examination of the urinary secretion.

Among these we might mention, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, &c., &c.

These diseases ofttimes much resemble Consumption in many particulars. They may come on with cough and expectoration of blood and mucus, pain in the breast and side, heats and chills, followed by weakness, night sweats, &c. These symptoms are taken for Consumption, and the patient is informed that the case is a "hopeless one," when perhaps it was yet as curable as nine-tenths of our most common diseases, and when some prompt and efficacious remedy administered for the real disease would dispel it in a very short time.

We have cured many cases of this kind, even after they had been abandoned as hopelessly consumpted, by their relatives as well as the physician. Whilst there is life there is hope in such cases.

It is said that the proprietors of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS rent no less than nine pews from the different denominations in New York city for all those of their employes who will occupy them regularly, free of charge. This is certainly praiseworthy, and it is to be hoped that others who employ a large number of people will follow the example. The above fact, accompanied with the belief that a firm who would look so closely after the morals and welfare of their employes, would not undertake to impose upon the public, has induced us to give the PLANTATION BITTERS a trial, and having found them all they were represented, we cordially recommend them as a tonic of rare merit.—Observer, July 1st.

Only Five Days Now.

Barker & Co., 59 Market and 20 Sixth (late St. Clair) street, must, by order of the administrator of the senior member of the firm (deceased) close out their entire stock of summer, fall and winter goods in five days. Wholesale and retail buyers should make a note of this, as every article has been marked down to prices that will secure their sale. Purchasers should call early in the morning, as the rush during the day is so great that with their additional hands, they find it difficult often to wait upon all. Let all our readers go to Barker's and lay in their supply of fall and winter goods at one-half the cost they will be compelled to pay when the season comes round.
